NEWSY NOTES GATHERED BY THE "TIMES" REPORTERS.

The Orphan Asylum Dinner—The Week of Opera—Election of Officers—At the Police Court—The Annual Dinner for the Poor—Custom-House Notes.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Victor, the Blue Stocking," and the "Maid of Honor."

"Martha" was presented at the matinee yesterday, and "Victor, the Blue Stocking," last night. On each occasion there were full and fashionable houses, and all the singers were loudly applauded. Each performance was a success in every way. To-night the "Maid of Honor," with Miss Stone, Madame Lablache, and McDonald, Clarke, and Bainbridge in the east. It is safe to say that there will be a crowded house to-night, and at every performance of this fine company at the Theatre.

Miss Bessie Gray at the Academy.
"Mikado" was presented at the matinee to a very large and pleased audience yesterday. Last night "Olivette" was the attraction. Miss Gray was applauded throughout, and had a double recall at the end of the second act. Misses McHenry, St. Claire, Tremaine, and Messrs. Harding, Aborn, Charles, Oakly, and Read, and others of the company rendered efficient support. At the matinee to-day, "Iolanthe," at night "Mascotte." It is hoped that the house will be full to witness these popular operas at popular prices.

The Royal Arcanum.

Elba Council, No. 606, Royal Arcanum, at its regular meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing term: John J. Powell, regent; Cass. Johnson, vice-regent; Bernard Frischkorn, orator; J. Edward Hankins, past regent; C. W. Tyler, secretary; James B. Angel, collector; T. P. Campbell, treasurer; George W. Saunders, chaplain; Walter E. Orange, guide; Daniel P. Gulick, warden; A. Nunnemaker, sentry; John E. Hankins, T. L. Courtney, and Joseph W. Laube, trustees; Charles M. Angel, representative to the Grand Council.

Henry Clay Council Royal Arcanum of Ashland elected officers last Friday night. Colonel Richard F. Beirne, of the State, was chosen orator. At the banquet which followed, Colonel Beirne, Mayor Tiller, Major Booth Brown, and other pleasant speakers made admirable addresses.

The Penalty of News-Gathering.

Yesterday afternoon about 4:30 as one of the TIMES reporters was passing up Broad street he noticed a crowd on the corner of Tenth. Proceeding to that point he found Policeman A. T. Walton endeavoring to carry a drunken woman to the station-house. While the TIMES man was making a mental note of the affair and admiring the officer's patience in dealing with the woman he was politely requested to assist in escorting the refractory female to the police station. As there was no other alternative, the desired assistance was rendered, and after much struggling on the part of the woman, she was finally landed in a cell in the Second police station. Here she refused to give her name, and amused herself in the vain endeavor of battering down the cell door, loudly screaming all the while.

A Noble Charity.

The two branches of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, assisted by the Ladies' Mission, yesterday gave a Christmas dinner to the needy and indigent portion of our population. The ladies had the use of Old Market Hall, and had the tables arranged in such a manner as to accommodate about 350 at one time. Each child was presented with a toy and a package of candy. Large paper bags were provided for those who did not wish to eat their dinner with the crowd, so that it might be carried home. It was estimated that between 1,500 and 2,000 persons availed themselves of this generous charity.

Everything passed off pleasantly, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the ladies for their efforts in making the dinner a perfect success.

The Tables Turned.

Sam Wing, a Chinaman, was before the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of assaulting William H. Mann (colored).

The evidence showed that Mann left some washing with Wing, and that when he called for it before the appointed time, Wing refused to give it up. Mann attempted to force him to deliver the articles when a scuffle ensued. The police were sent for and Wing arrested. The Police justice dismissed Wing, and fined Mann $2.50 and costs.

Our Foreign Commerce.

The following vessels entered at the Custom-house yesterday: The British schooner Wanderer, from New York, with part cargo to load flour for Brazil; the British brig Aldine, from New York, with part cargo to finish loading foreign; the American schooner George W. Lochner, from Cuba, with a cargo of iron for the Tredgar Company; the British bark Huntress, is ballast, from Bahia to load foreign.

The Good Templars.

Large delegations of members from the various lodges of Good Templars in this city propose visiting Sidney Lodge, No. 428, at its meeting next Monday night. J. R. Tillery, district lecturer, will be present, and by his well-known ability as a speaker will doubtless encourage and stimulate the members of this lodge in the work. Sidney Lodge is the oldest lodge of the order in the city, and has done a good work for the cause.

Councilman Pearce Resigns.

The resignation of W. E. Pearce, as member of the Common Council from Monroe Ward, is in the hands of the City Clerk, B. T. August.

The Council will meet next Monday night, at which time Mr. Pearce's successor will probably be elected.

A Seasonable Spread.

Mrs. C. H. Hasker, one of Union Station's most zealous members, spread a bounteous supper to her Sunday-school class, of that Church, last Tuesday night. Mrs. Hasker's hospitality allowed all present to record the occasion as a most enjoyable one.

THE MALE ORPHAN ASYLUM.

The Annual Dinner—Governor Lee, Mrs. Lee and a Distinguished Company Present—Interesting Exercises and Presentations.

The annual distribution of prizes, and the Christmas dinner to the inmates of the Male Orphan Asylum took place yesterday evening. The exercises began at 3:30 o'clock with singing by the boys. After this Santa Claus was welcomed, and made a happy address. Then there was more singing by the boys, and by little Misses Mamie and Lillie Trahern and Virginia Talbott.

Governor and Mrs. Lee came in during these exercises, and received an Old Virginia welcome. Then part of the programme was brief speeches, which were made by Dr. Parker (who so efficiently acted as master of ceremonies), Governor Lee, Mr. L. D. K. Slight, and Mr. Robert E. Richardson. Mr. James A. Gentry, by invitation, read some original verses.

Mr. Slight then, on behalf of Mr. Thomas J. Todd, presented books, as a reward of merit, to Masters Charles Foster, George Ambold, George Crump and George Percy.

The Christmas-tree with the imitation snow looked beautiful, and under the gleam of the red light the effect was fine. Presents were provided for all the boys, and these will be distributed without ceremony to-day. After the entertainment the boys were entertained at an excellent supper. The table was loaded with all manner of good things, and the little ones had a feast indeed. Among the honored guests were Messrs. John W. Calligan and William Cook, former inmates, who left the institution with first-class records.

Among those present were Dr. W. W. Parker and Mrs. Parker, and Messrs. R. P. Richardson, D. O. Davis, Thomas J. Todd, J. S. Elliot, and Robert E. Richardson of the Board of Directors; Capt. Thomas Cunningham, Miss Lummie Cunningham, Miss Jennie Martin, Professor Minor and Miss Minor, Mrs. J. M. Fossett, Mr. J. F. Talbott of the Miller Manual School, and the City Editor of THE TIMES. The dinner to the directors and ladies and invited guests was an elegant affair. Mrs. Gill was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William F. Trahern, Mrs. J. F. Talbott, Mr. J. W. Anderson, Mr. J. M. Fossett, Mrs. Clifford, Miss Jewett, Miss Clifford, some of the older boys, and a well-trained corps of servants.

During the evening there was a number of visitors, and a few relatives of the inmates, but most of them left after the opening exercises.

The visit of Governor and Mrs. Lee was a happy event. It was not only appreciated by Mrs. Gill and the orphans, but by all present. It is but another evidence of the big heartedness of "Our Fitz," and he and his wife were warmly welcomed. It is a matter of regret that they could not longer remain.

To Mrs. Joseph R. Gill all praise is due. She labored hard, and the supper was a great success and the occasion one that will long linger among the brightest spots in memory.

Accident at the Capitol.

Sergeant Campbell, the one-armed Confederate veteran who has charge of the elevator at the Capitol, met with a painful accident yesterday. He was walking in front of the Capitol building, when he stepped upon a loose stone, which turned, causing him to fall heavily to the ground, throwing the weight of his body upon the stump of his arm, breaking the bone. Soon after the accident he was placed in a carriage and taken to the Soldiers' Home.

Last night he was reported as doing well, although suffering much pain.

Police Court.

C. J. Watson (colored), perjury and forgery. Waxed examination and sent on to grand jury.

Charles Samson (colored), assaulting and beating Mary Frayser. Fined $10 and costs.

Edmund West (colored), stealing thirty papers from the Dispatch Publishing Company. Continued until to-day.

W. W. Belvin was fined $20 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

A Fine Order.

At the annual meeting of Section 202, Pythian Endowment, held Tuesday night, the following officers were elected and installed by P. P. William E. Cree: President, W. B. Clark; vice-president, W. E. Woody; secretary and treasurer, G. E. Bowden; medical examiner, Dr. W. F. Richardson. In future this section will meet the first Thursday in each month.

Death of a Good Citizen.

Mr. James C. Taylor, of Manchester, died Tuesday night after a long illness. The deceased had been a resident of Manchester a number of years, and until ill health prevented him he worked at the Richmond and Danville shops, in this city. He was a worthy citizen, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Fulton Notes.

Miss Hannah Kerse entertained her numerous friends in the East End at a very pleasant sociable at her residence last night.

Fulton Methodist church will give a song festival to-morrow night.

Messrs. William O'Dwyer and James Slattery will tender their friends a complimentary hop at Washer's Hall to-morrow night.

Deed of Assignment.

J. Bernstein yesterday filed a deed in the clerk's office of the Chancery Court, conveying to Sol. L. Bloomberg, trustee, the stock of goods in his store, No. 718 East Cary street, to secure his creditors. The preferred creditors are George A. Lathrop & Co., $304.65; A. J. Miller, $540. Liabilities, $3,100; assets, not stated.

Unsound Game.

Persons buying dressed poultry and game would do well to take exceeding care in the selection of the same, and also as to the reliability of the parties with whom they deal.

Two hucksters were reported in the First Market yesterday morning for offering unsound birds for sale.

It Is a Fact.

That Dr. David's Cough Syrup is perfectly harmless and the most effective cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, etc., known. Don't take any of the "just-as-good" (so-called) cough cures offered you because they cost the seller less, but insist upon having Dr. David's Cough Syrup.

The News of the Day Boiled Down and Served Up in Condensed Shape—About Folks You Know, and Interesting Items Happily and Hastily Hit.

The city hands are engaged, in constructing a sewer on Clay street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth.

The cantata which was so well rendered at Pine-street Baptist church last Tuesday night will be repeated Friday night.

The entertainment of Leader Lodge of Good Templars of Manchester was one of the most pleasant of all the Christmas festivities.

Mrs. Mamie Sheenick, who made the charge of murder against her husband is still living. The case against Sheenick long since fell as flat as the "Old Man's" yarn.

The funeral of Dr. May, who died suddenly in Monroe Park Monday afternoon, took place from St. Paul's church at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Minnigerode. The remains were interred in Hollywood.

Mr. Samuel Devo and Mr. William Johnson, two well-known citizens of Dover, Goodland county, are seriously ill. Both are well known in Richmond, and Mr. Devo is father-in-law of Mr. Benjamin H. Berry, of this city.

The entertainment at Corcoran Hall for the benefit of Steamer Fire Company No. 1 was a great success. Misses Seaman and Bachrach and Messrs. J. Louis Sullivan, Conway Myers, and S. L. Bachrach were deservedly applauded.

Among other beautiful floral tributes at the funeral of the late Dr. Henry May was one of the largest and most handsome "Gates Ajar" ever seen in Richmond. It was furnished by Mr. H. A. Catlin and arranged by that gentleman and Mrs. Charles E. Roper.

PLAYERS AND SINGERS.

W. J. Florence and wife are going to make a tour of Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Sankey have just returned from Europe.

Kate Claxton has gone back to "The Two Orphans." She is playing it this week in New York.

Alvan Clarke, the venerable and famous telescope maker of Cambridge, is 82 years of age, but hale and hearty, and works regularly.

Margaret Mather is said to have begun life as a news girl in Detroit. She is supporting three nieces in school and is a large giver to charities.

Veteran Charles W. Condo, the Dunston to Ellis Elster's Hazel Kirke, proposes to retire now after half a century of active work upon the stage.

The New York press and all the metropolitan lovers of music have gone wild over the first presentation there of "Tristan and Isolde," the most thoroughly Wagnerian of all Wagner's operas.

The gas engineer at the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, has succeeded in substituting the electric for the calcium light for the stage. This is the first instance of practical success in that way.

The presentation of flowers to theatrical performers during a performance has been prohibited in certain European quarters, and now American managers are said to wish the law might similarly interfere here, too.

St. Louis clergymen passed a series of resolutions last night condemning the ballot in general and that attached to the American Opera company in particular; but the company did good business in that city, all the same.

The Philadelphia amateur dramatic club and associations are gradually dying out because of the lack of an abiding place. It is claimed that these clubs have furnished the stage with a very large number of competent people.

Madame Ristori and Mrs. Ladner met not so very long ago at the home of Mme Nevada-Palmer. They greeted each other warmly. They had not seen each other before since they were present at a grand entertainment given in their honor at Chicago some years ago.

Capt. J. M. Cushing, who has just been placed in command of Vanderbilt's steam yacht Alva, was born in Phippsburg, Me., in 1851. He has had a wide experience as a seaman, and is considered by experts one of the ablest young captains that ever commanded a ship.

Theodore Thomas applied for entrance at the stage door of the theatre in which the American Opera company was to appear in Philadelphia the other day. The doorman asked him who he was. "Thomas," was the reply. "What Thomas?" "The only Thomas," rejoined Theodore, as he pushed his way in.

The emperor of Austria has granted Adolph Sommetthal, the actor, permission to make a short visit to America. Mr. Courtland will arrange for a tour of the principal cities of the United States, which will not exceed twenty performances. Sommetthal visited America about two years ago for the first time.

Frederick Dubois, who has been elected delegate to congress from Idaho, only went to that territory three years ago. President Arthur appointed him United States marshal largely to resist the encroachments of Mormonism, and he now comes back to Washington as a pronounced anti-Mormon delegate.

A Job on a Drummer.

In one of the Birmingham drug stores this morning was a dealer in silver polish, who was telling the merits of his goods and polishing everything he could get hold of in the line of silver. After a while the drug dealer called the attention of the agent to a powder that he had and asked him opinion of its merits. The agent tried it and said it was fair, but not equal to his own, and was willing to back up his opinion with a bet of $100. After a while the agent was informed that the powder was some that had been abstracted from his own box, and he immediately had business that called him out of the store.—Waterbury American.

A Youthful Mrs. Partington.

Amie G. had been punished for crying over two broken dolls. "Oh, yes, mamma," she moaned, "you can punish me if you like, but I've had a terrible affliction losing both my children in one day, and I'm bound to cry. If I was to die reproachfully you could cry without being intersturbed." Another day she asked to go to several places, and upon being refused exclaimed: "You won't let me go anywhere I want to—not a single where."—New Orleans Picayune.

A Train Jumps the Track.

PITTSBURG, December 29.—The Alliance accommodation, on the Fort Wayne railroad, jumped the track near Darlington, Ohio, forty miles west of Pittsburgh, last evening, wrecking two passenger coaches and the baggage. Four passengers and two employees received painful, but no serious injuries, and a number of others were slightly bruised and cut. The accident was caused by a broken frog.

No Business Done.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., December 29.—The annual meeting of the Virginia Midland Railroad Company adjourned from week to week since the 12th instant, met at noon to-day in the office of the company, on Prince street. General William F. Payne presided, and E. Snowden was secretary. It appeared, upon the appointment of a committee on credentials, that a quorum of stock was present. No business was transacted, however, and the meeting adjourned until January 5th, 1887.

Urging That Churchill Be Pleaced.

LONDON, December 29.—The Post, referring to the vacancy in the cabinet, urges the ministry to endeavor to provide some means by which Lord Randolph Churchill can resume office.
